

Meeting Minutes 2/2/21

We discussed the need for a calibration period after wetting the electrodes.

Dr. Kumar mentioned that it would be a good idea to compare/run the same tests with the emotive device as a way to validate the device.

Dr. Kumar gave us some good food for thought on if there was a “right hand raise” signature brain wave pattern.

The megamind only has 5 channels, we would need a redesign if we continue with this model.

Dr. Kumar mentioned then that we can use the old version for the rat and use the new model for the human addition as a possibility.

We decided to stay with the 8 channels since we will eventually be ditching spike recorder as a software.
